West Oxford Fair Notes.

Starter E. Wentworth of Springfield was examining the cattle pens and looking anxiously for the young stock. On inquiring if he was interested in the stock he said, "Yes, I've just bought three calves of C. V. Hartford of Hiram and I want to buy some more if I can find the right kind. I do some farming down home. I cut 150 tons of hay and keep a good deal of stock besides horses. Coal and wood are my principle."

John Stuart Barrows' many friends were pleased to see him and he often stopped his prancing horses to shake hands with them. Mr. Barrows is the marine editor of the Boston Journal and he spends his vacations in Fryeburg. In the city he is drill sergeant of the National Lancers, hence comes his ease and grace on horseback which he displayed as marshal during the three days of the fair. His sisters, Anna and Mary, are the editors, managers and owners of the New England Kitchen Magazine of Boston. It is a flourishing publication.

Tristram Deming of Conway, p. o. address Fryeburg, was passing a subscription paper right and left to all soliciting funds to buy a new leg for Frank Brooks of Conway. Mr. Brooks is between 45 and 50 years of age and lost a leg many years ago. He has worn out one artificial leg and is compelled to take this means to get another. He got considerable money.

We met Mrs. Anna Noyes, George L. Noyes, wife and son of Norway, also Eugene Walker of Fryeburg at the fair. They have been making an extensive visit or stay, this summer, with Mrs. John Walker, a sister of Mrs. Noyes. George Noyes claims to have been farming, but there is some evidence that he has been prospecting and painting during his five months sojourn here.

Wash basins with long chains attached for the use of the public are at the watering stands. It is a good idea and they were liberally patronized. Wouldn't it be a good idea for the society to furnish soap and towels?

E. E. Wentworth of Springfield has been "starter" of the races for the past seven years. It must be that he has given satisfaction or he would not have been retained for that length of time. This year Mr. Wentworth was accompanied by his wife and little daughter. He calls it a vacation—no doubt it is and a profitable one too, as he gets from $10 to $20 and expenses for every afternoon he spends in a judges' stand, and he usually puts in from 30 to 35 days "starting races," each fall.

John Philip, Fryeburg, had a fat grade Durham heifer, 17 months old, on the ground that is said to weigh 1100 pounds.
"Capt. Dewey," registered, is the big Shorthorn 4 years old bull owned by H. D. Harnden of East Fryeburg. He is a big fellow and looks well.

"Prince Rupert," registered bull and the "Princess" and "Enchantress" of O. W. Adams' herd of Hiram were here. They are thoroughbred Herefords and excellent individuals.
Mrs. H. D. Harnden, East Fryeburg, exhibits prime butter, and had some fine pieces of flowers representing calla lilies and asters made of golden butter. Also Mrs. E. A. Harnden had butter representing fish and corn.

Ralph McAllister of West Lovell shows a jackknife made toy sled of considerable merit. Mrs. Z. McAllister makes a big display of farm produce, household goods, preserves, jam, syrups, etc.

Our old friend, A. J. Wheeler of Brunswick was in the midway. He was the manager of "English Jack, the frog eater" and with a hand full of Uncle Sam's good bills he told the people of the wondrous appetite and digestive ability of "English Jack," the tattooed marvel from the west coast of Borneo, who could charm snakes, eat frogs, lizards and the like—show to begin at once, only a dime! The frog eater was well patronized and as far as we were able to see he swallowed the frogs. He claims to have eaten as many as 32 in a day. He says they kick in his stomach for about three seconds and then it's all up with them.

A hundred or more couples attended the Red Men's dance in the Red Men's hall, Thursday evening. Robinson's Orchestra furnished music.

It was announced from the judges' stand "that if the young man who was returned to pick up a ladies' watch would return it to the secretary's office no questions would be asked." A half hour later it was announced that the watch had been handed to deputy sheriff G. G. Shirley and had been returned to its owner.

It was reported that Mark W. Pierce, ex-deputy sheriff of Carroll county, N. H., and store keeper at Glen Station, was not on the grounds, Thursday. He was probably there on Friday.

"Hazel L." the 10 years old mare, known as the Lady MacAllister, owned by Forrest McDaniel of Norway, was off on trotting on both days. Somehow she didn't come up to expectations and her backers in the pool box dropped their pile.

H. W. Merrill, Hiram, of Mt. Cutler Grange, made a big exhibit of native grasses of Maine in the hall.

The attendance Friday was more than an average last day. The weather was perfect.

The following is summary of races:
2:35 Class, Purse $150.
Melody, Geo. Allen.....2 1 1
Euphonia, H. F. H. Osgood.....1 2 2
Black Bear, W. M. J. C. P.3 3 3
Time, 2:38; 2:41; 2:50; 2:50.

Free For All, Purse $200.
Commodore Dewey, Chas. W. Nelson.....1 1
Alexander, Fred. Pond.....2 2
Stallie Collins, W. M. J. C. P.3 3
Lady Madeline, W. M. J. C. P.4 4
Time, 2:23; 2:31; 2:32.

We would suggest that when the present supply of entry cards are exhausted that future ones be printed on white stock instead of so deep a red as to make pencil marks almost invisible. We heard some complaint in the hall that the entry blanks or cards could not be read as they were too red in color. We presume the Society will forgive us for the suggestion.

Teachers' Institute.
The West Oxford Teachers' Institute was held at Hiram, Sept. 22 and 23. A large number were present, including State Superintendent W. W. Stetson and Fayson Smith of Rumford Falls. The officers elected for the year were:
President—Stephen H. Rounds, Cornish.
Vice-President—Frank M. Brownfield.
Secretary—Jesse Kimball, Hiram.

The next place of meeting will be at Parsonsfield, the date to be announced later.

Premiums Awarded.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not do without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." Miss Ada Doty, Sidney, Iowa.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove the cause of rheumatism—no outward application can. Take them.

A Little Doing in Hunting.

First Deer in Oxford County Taken at Fryeburg—Woodcock Have Gone South—Fishing Time Cold and wet weather.

The extreme cold and wet weather during the past week has made hunting a poor proposition for the sportsmen, and as far as heard from but four birds have been taken. Shorty Cook and Mel Sampson got those near the Mark Richardson farm, Tue. 9th.

The first shot to be shot in the county was killed at Fryeburg, Wednesday of last week, and since then three others have been taken in different localities hereabouts. The season on woodcock is practically closed, the birds never remaining in great numbers after the first week of October, and this early they have towards the south. A good number have been taken since the law went off, the middle of last month.

The large number of ducks that have been flocking in Freeman bog for some time, left for some place, Saturday, after four had been shot. There would have been a good hunting with them if too much reckless shooting hadn't been done. John M. Cummings returned from Andover, Saturday, with the report that farmers up that way are complaining of the scarcity of bears. One man said three of his best coveys sheep had been found on a sidehill with the juncal vane of each ripped open.

Charles Hanson of Oxford shot a deer Friday, weight 135 pounds. Everett Fox of Kezar Falls, 18 years old, was accidentally shot and seriously wounded while hunting in the woods Monday. Young Fox had a revolver in his hip pocket and while in the act of climbing over a stone wall the revolver was in some way discharged, the bullet entering his chest under the shoulder blade. Friends who were with him assisted him to his home and medical aid was summoned. He will recover.

Will H. Thomas of East Oxford shot a deer,

One man said three of his best coveys had been found on a hillside with the regular view of each tipped open.

Charles Hanson of Oxford shot a deer Friday, weighing 136 pounds, and a few days ago, accidentally shot and seriously injured while hunting in the woods. Young Fox had a revolver in his hip pocket and while in the act of climbing over a stone wall the revolver was in some way discharged, the bullet entering the back under the shoulder blade. Friends who were with him assisted him to his home and medical aid was summoned. He will recover.

With H. Thomas of East Oxford shot a deer, Wednesday, which weighed 188 pounds, after it was dressed. O. F. W. Sanborn and F. H. Noyes' extended trip across country to the Fryburg fair last week, a good sized deer was seen in the road on Baker Hill in Waterford. It was within easy shooting distance but the deer was protected by law until the next day.

A partridge flew against the house of Elliott Titon at Buckfield and broke its neck. It is better than some of the game recently shot. C. R. Whittey of Augusta came to do a little hunting and visit his mother last week.

But Flint of North Lovell who has been hunting at Wm. Gammon's, West Sweden, shot two small deer last Thursday one of which he killed, and broke one hind leg of the other which he succeeded in killing the next day. Wallace Adams who is visiting at North Sweden, shot a large deer one day last week. Mr. Parker and Bert Willey of Connecticut boarded at Wm. Gammon's last week and hunted deer. Mr. Parker shot a large fox one day while out hunting.

In North Waterford the boys are on the alert for deer but only one has been shot in this vicinity.

Don Smith of Newry got a large black bear last Saturday in a trap in his pasture. He sent the meat to Boston ($50 per pound) and has refused $3 for the skin.

Ernest Nason of North Waterford carried a party of hunters through to the Lakeside, Oct. 5.

A deer was killed in the Montion meadow, South Harrison, by Chester A. Russell. It was a fawn and the dressed carcass weighed sixty pounds.

Horace Smith of South Waterford shot a deer weighing 200 pounds. He was shot on Harris Kneeland's premises back of his house.

Two deer were shot near Oxford, Wednesday. There has been a lot of fishing in the lake, up to within a few days but the season is about closed. Dr. Wells and H. F. Moore who are staying at the Bear's House, each captured a black bass at the same time, Friday, the combined weight of the two fishes being 8 1/2 pounds. After landing them the fishermen put them back in the water.

GREENWOOD.

Reuben Whitman's buildings on Young Hill were burned the ground, Friday night. He bought the place of Stillman Cole and has lived there only a short time. 20 tons of hay, 50 hens, 75 bushels of potatoes and part of his furniture was burned. The fire caught around the chimney. There was a small insurance.

Ralph Richardson is very sick with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Lendall Yates is at work at Charles Richardson's.

Ida Morgan is at Bethel helping her sister, Mrs. Herbert Ring.

Maynard Pierce and family of Auburn are visiting Mrs. P.'s father, Clinton Cole.

Mrs. Sarah Walton from Massachusetts has recently been visiting at Johnson Martin's.

Quite a number from this way attended Waterford fair, Saturday, and report a good time.

Anstin Morgan is building a new house. Michael Harrington is doing the carpenter work.

Mrs. George Hayes and four children spent the past two weeks visiting relatives in Gloucester.

Stillman Cole and wife have finished work at Bethel and are now stopping at Sylvester Cole's.

Paris Manufacturing Co. commenced their winter's log logging in Albany woods, last Tuesday.

Mrs. Orpha Ring came home from Bethel, Friday, where she has been at work for a few weeks.

Mrs. Andrew Richardson is staying a few days with her brother, Charles Judkins, who is in poor health.

Mrs. Luther Foster and two children from Madison are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Emmons.

Mrs. Osgood Swan and children returned home, Saturday, from Auburn, where she had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Goss.

NORTHWEST NORWAY. Richard Walker is at Bridgton at school.

Harrison Hunt is at work for Arthur Meserve and his brother is at work for Dr. Walker.

Mrs. E. J. Holt went to Oxford to the Congregational conference, last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Chandler Merrill and a friend from Lovell have been visiting his father and mother and calling on friends.

Will Holt's son, daughter and a friend of theirs from Boston, Mass., have been visiting him, at Walter Buck's and Henry Brown's.

WEST SUMNER.

Lora Farrar.
Lora Farrar passed away from a life of suffering, Sept. 26. For nineteen years she endured with remarkable patience and wonderful courage her long sickness. She was one of the few of whom one spoke evil. Her mother, Mrs. Florinda Farrar, a brother, Ezekiah S. Farrar of West Paris, two sisters, Mrs. O. G. Chandler of this place, and Mrs. Alphonso Rowe of North Sumner survive her. She was a member of the I. S. S. The funeral was in the Universalist church, the 28. The remarks by Rev. B. F. Turner were beautiful and appropriate. Handsome plants and lovely bouquets were in abundance. Besides the many other flowers on the casket was a large pillow, the gift of friends at Farrar's Mills. Interment in the family lot in Pleasant Pond cemetery.

The north side of the Baptist church was newly shingled, last week.

Sophronia Ryerson of Hebron is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Rosetta Ryerson.

Mrs. Cynthia Bisbee spent last week visiting her cousin, Mrs. Austin Whitman, at West Paris.

Mrs. M. H. Nickerson had ripe strawberries from her vines, last week, and has more to ripen, the weather permitting.

O. G. Chandler and son are assisting Winslow Bisbee in building a new wood shed and doing some shingling on his house.

Mrs. Eunice Howard of Brookville, Mass., was gladly welcomed as the guest of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Bisbee, recently.

Mrs. H. L. Ryerson went to the hospital at Lewiston, Sept. 27th, for medical treatment. We hear she seems rather better and all hope she will return much improved at no late day.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lunt of Buckfield and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich from Philadelphia, Penn., were at G. W. Heath's, last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich returned to their home, Oct. 8th.

J. J. Abbott has had a very sick time, but is improving. It was thought he worked too hard for a man of his years and health. His daughter, Mrs. C. M. Bisbee, from Rumford Falls has been to see him.

Mr. Heath wishes me to correct an error in the report of the Oxford County fair. Instead of Herman D. Heath, 60 years old, being the maker of the yoke it yoke the four steers abreast, it was Gilman W. Heath, 73 years, old, West Sumner.

Mrs. I. O. Swift and little girl returned from their visit to Lynn, Mass., Oct. 4. Her father, Laver Puffer, came with her to attend to the picking of his apples, of which he has a fair crop. Early apples are badly infested with the railroad streaks, a large per cent. being unfit for use.

WEST BETHEL.
G. B. Lowell has again swapped horses.

A. J. Haskell is making cider at his mill in Bethel.

Trenna Brown has again returned to school at Gorham.

Charlie Connor of Albany was here, Sunday, to visit his sister.

Harry Mills has moved into the rent vacated by Frank Kendall.

George Marrow and Isabel Gandy were in this village, last Sunday.

Several went to Gorham and Berlin, N. H., on the excursion, last Sunday.

Willie Mills and wife are now staying with his parents, W. D. Mills' and wife.

L. D. Grover has so far improved as to be able to work, and is gathering his farm produce.

D. O. Bennett is reported as not quite so well. He has been very poorly for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Orelly and Rosa Bean are at Portland attending the musical festival, this week.

Mellen Mason has put down a drain pipe to carry away the waste water from his barn and sink.

Mrs. A. E. Davis and daughter of Portland are here on a visit to Mrs. Davis' mother, Mrs. L. C. Bean.

Percy O'Brien lost a nice horse, recently, which is quite a loss to him as he is a hard working man.

On next Saturday there will be a lot of steers and cattle for sale by Hutchinson & Austin in A. S. Bean's field. See ad.

Fred Wood is here as station agent while Mr. Orelly is away for a few days. Mr. Wood worked in this vicinity several years ago and now finds friends who are pleased to meet him again.

Joseph Swett and family, who have been away on a visit, have returned to their home in this village. They were gone longer than they expected to be on account of the sickness of their baby, also the death of Mr. Swett's mother.

SNOW'S FALLS.
Agnes Hazelton of Sumner is at work for B. C. Mudge.

Chester Beckler of Woodstock is at work for James G. Tyler.

Mr. Borden and Mr. Dyer of Portland were at B. C. Mudge's, Saturday.

O. K. Corsant, president of the Linen Mfg. Co. has been spending a few days at Maplecroft.

Mrs. Fred J. Wood of Williamantio, Ct., is spending a few days at her home here. She was accompanied by Mrs. John F. Wood of Boston.

B. C. Mudge went to Lynn, Tuesday, to meet his wife who has been away for several weeks, but who will return with him, this week. Their daughter Marion has taken the entrance examinations to Bryn Mawr College, winning several honors.

HARTFORD.
Little Eban Allen of Buckfield is visiting at Wm. Mitchell's.

Mrs. Bertha Spaulding is keeping house for Adrian Lucas.

Mrs. Eliza Oldham visited friends in Livermore Falls, last week.

Mrs. Gertrude Benson, who has been caring for her sister and visiting other friends in Massachusetts, has returned to America Benson's.

Rufus Bryant and wife, who have been passing the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Eben Andrews, have lately returned to their home in Lynn, Mass.

J. R. Ford and family have gone to Bryant's Pond, where Mrs. Ford and Ida, who have had long experience in the business, are employed by Lester Heath in the hotel.

Chas. Berry, one of the good farmers of Hartford, has a large crop of apples. Several other equally good farmers located on the same ridge of land will not be on the same ridge for home use. Corn in that section is a complete failure.

Northern Cumberland Fair.

The fair was held Tuesday and Wednesday and the attendance was about as usual. On Wednesday 750 tickets were sold. The attractions were the trials of strength of horses and oxen, a report of which with awards of premiums will appear in our next issue.

Hall Exhibition.
The exhibition in the hall was the best ever shown here and reflects much credit on those taking part in it.

The thirteenth annual Cattle Show and Fair of the Northern Cumberland Agricultural Society opened at the society's grounds in South Harrison on Tuesday morning. All indications pointed toward a great exhibition, as many articles had been brought to the hall and put in place on the previous day. The Grange exhibits to be made by three Granges had created a strong but entirely friendly competition and the members were laboring with a will to make each exhibit the best one.

The day was an ideal one, clear, bright and pleasant, and the exhibition proved to all that was promised, though the crowd that came to see it was as usual on the first day, rather small. The show of cattle was the largest for years, there being about 150 head on the grounds, and quite a good showing of horses and colts, sheep and poultry.

In the hall all was bustle and activity early in the day, and the able and efficient manager, J. P. Martin, was a very busy man, and different committees of arrangements from the Granges and some other exhibitors. Soon after noon the arrangement was completed, and a visit in the middle of the afternoon revealed to your reporter the fact that the hall was fairly packed with exhibits and the walls were covered nearly to the roof and lines strung in all directions were filled with articles.

The exhibit of Crooked River Grange was the first attracted the visitor, as it was the nearest to the stairway. The portion in the northwesterly corner of the hall was arranged in a large booth very tastefully covered and draped on the side with flags. The sloping table was covered with a show which is hard to describe, as all of the articles were so meritorious as to require special mention. There was a great profusion of fancy articles of all kinds and designs, many of which were of great beauty and value. There were also ancient and curious articles, pictures and paintings, elegant pieces of woodwork, many and various pieces of household manufactures, etc., and the whole was well set off by a finely arranged background composed of beautiful quilts, afghans, bedspreads, sofa pillow covers, etc., in the midst of which were two windows filled with shelves of canned fruits, jellies, in glasses, giving a pretty effect.

In addition to this part of the show this Grange occupied the whole of a long table reaching nearly two-thirds of the length of the hall and half of another table of equal length. On these tables were arranged the fruits and vegetables, with an occasional pot of handsome house plants, or an elegant vase of cut flowers. Many curious articles were also exhibited here. These tables were fairly piled with the exhibits, as the space had to be severely economized.

The next prominent feature of the hall show to attract the attention of the visitor, was the exhibition of Casco Grange which occupied the whole of the southern end of the large room. It was a bewildering display and one from which it was hard to select any articles for general mention.

The committee of arrangements were Geo. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dingley, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hall, S. F. Jordan and F. O. Lombard, and our thanks are due to the members who so kindly assisted the reporter in his labor. The main portion of this exhibit was arranged on a wide platform reaching nearly across the hall and on tables and shelves on the sides, with the walls covered to quite a height and lined filled with exhibits. The whole was finely set off by an elegant background composed of many and various quilts, bedspreads, table covers, afghans and in the center was an attractive sunnise quilt shown by Mrs. S. O. Hancock and made by her aged grandmother. The same old lady had another quilt of her work containing 3000 pieces.

A very handsome worsted quilt was shown by Mrs. M. C. Kemp. Alice Curtis showed a curiosity in the shape of a felt table cover woven from narrow strips, and very heavy and durable. Mrs. S. A. Hall showed a drawn box quilt; Mrs. S. O. Hancock an elegant drawn rug; Mrs. M. C. Kemp, Mrs. S. A. Hall and Mrs. S. O. Hancock very nice silk quilts. There were many ancient articles including warming pans, brass candle sticks, plates more than a century old, etc. H. M. Sylvester showed 19 oil paintings, his own handiwork. Nora Scribner showed a nice pillow made entirely of cigar ribbons.

There was a very fine display of elegant fancy work of all kinds, including tidies, toilet sets, lace work, table mats, dollies and various other articles too numerous to mention.

The display was finely draped in front with red, white and blue bunting, with the Grange banner in the center, and latter being the work of Mrs. Sylvester. In the front of the main show was a large table of vegetables containing a large assortment of the best vegetables that could be culled from the Grangers' produce, while on the west side was a display of fruit, not very large in extent, but containing some of the best specimens in the hall. There was also a fine display of canned fruits, etc., in glasses arranged in shelves in windows.

The third Grange exhibit was by Naples Grange and was most excellent, though considerably smaller than the first two. This Grange is much smaller in numbers, and many of the members are so situated that they could not contribute, but the show filled three good sized tables, and quite an amount of wall space and lines.

EAST WATERFORD.
George Hilton has sold his herd of hogs and bought a larger herd of pigs. Lynn and Mollie Hilton attended the fair at Fryburg and North Waterford.

Alton Ames will return to Dennysville, this week, where he is running a novelty mill.

One of our farmers says he realized $3.25 from 1 1/2 acres of sweet corn aside from the fodder.

Will Emery returned from Rumford Falls, last Saturday, and is now repairing his buildings.

Sewall Millett has finished work for Haskell & Rolfe and gone to Oxford to work for Ensley Bean.

We enjoy one blessing denied to many places, plenty of fire wood at reasonable prices, and often for the mere trouble of hauling.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Scott's Emulsion is the means of life and of the enjoyment of life of thousands of men, women and children.

To the men Scott's Emulsion gives the flesh and strength so necessary for the cure of consumption and the repairing of body losses from any wasting disease.

For women Scott's Emulsion does this and more. It is a most sustaining food and tonic for the special trials that women have to bear.

To children Scott's Emulsion gives food and strength for growth of flesh and bone and blood. For pale girls, for thin and sickly boys Scott's Emulsion is a great help.

West Oxford Fair.

Thursday was an ideal fair day, and the crowds of people who came to the show felt amply repaid for their travel through the mud, but found things all right when on the ground.

Thursday the gate receipts were $300. A year ago was a record breaker when $1,161 were taken. Thus it will be seen that the gate receipts fell only $261 short, notwithstanding the doubtful aspect of the weather until eight o'clock.

The Eagle Grange of Chatham, the Mt. Cedar Grange of Hiram, the Brownfield and Fryeburg Granges took a hand in the exhibition and the wonderful advance in the ball snow attested their great help and influence.

There was not room in the hall for the great exhibit of goods in domestic products, home-made goods and the fine arts.

A good variety of water colors, largely of local scenery, and a quantity of burnt leather work was exhibited by the local artist, B. T. Newman.

We would mention a very pleasing and ingenious show of Indian relics and souvenirs, furs and pictures made from the natural color of different kinds of wood and ingenious boxes made with a jack-knife. These curios were collected in the West and exhibited by Rev. H. H. Hoyt, who is preaching this summer at North Fryeburg and Hiram.

Chandler's 1st Regiment Band of Portland, 22 men, furnished music on Thursday and Friday. It cost the society one hundred dollars per day and their expenses, yet we feel it was money well expended as one of the trustees said "last year we paid $300 for a stage performance which did not please the people half as well as the music did this afternoon." The band was encored after nearly every selection played, Thursday afternoon.

The grand stand was packed to witness the three races in the afternoon. Summary:

2.20 Class.
Meador Boy, Frank Fogg, South Paris. 2 1 1
Bennie, b. g., N. J. Foss, Cornish. 3 2 2
Lady Madeline, b. m., J. A. Snow, Hazzard Junction. 5 3 3
Time, 2:26, 2:20 1/2, 2:21, 2:22 1/2.

2.27 Class.
P. O. b. g., I. E. Collins. 1 1 1
Dr. Jack, b. s., Perley L. Smith, Denmark. 3 2 2
Sico, b. g., W. A. Nelson, Portland. 7 5 5
Flora B., f. m., J. W. Hickey & Co., Seneca, N. H. 2 7 7
Joker M., b. g., J. I. Milet, Norway. 2 4 6
Senator, Walter Titman, Bartlett, N. H. 8 8 8
Cinders, b. h., E. Luce, Bridgton. 5 3 3
Lucy Wilkes, b. k. m., Wm. J. Sweeney, Cornish. 5 4 4
Time, 2:26, 2:20 1/2, 2:23 1/2.

2.45 Class.
Alice Richmond, b. m., F. H. Osgood, Rochester, N. H. 1 1 1
Ulva M., b. m., J. C. Pert, Redstone, N. H. 2 2 2
Hazel L., b. k. m., Forest A. McDaniels, Norway. 1 2 2
Hilda R., f. m., J. C. Pert, Redstone, N. H. 1 2 2
Time, 2:43, 2:44, 2:45.

To have every horse named on the card appear is something out of the ordinary. This is what was done on the Thursday's races. In the three races there were fifteen horses named and they all appeared on the track. The track was heavy and fast time could not be made, though in the 20 class Meador Boy was driven in by Bennie in 2:20 1/2. This was a close race between these two horses. A week previous at Bridgton, N. J. Foss' Bennie beat Meador Boy in straight heats, best time 2:22 1/2, but here it was changed about. Bennie was a favorite in the grand stand.

In the 2.45 class, "Hilda R." appeared but was allowed to be drawn. This was no race at all. Hazel L. was distanced and Alice Richmond, owned by F. H. Osgood of Rochester, N. H., was too speedy for Ulva M., owned by J. C. Pert of Redstone, N. H., who apparently urged his horse along by the high lifting of the reins at critical points, much to the amusement of the spectators.

In the 2.27 class, Perley L. Smith's "Dr. Jack" started under protest. It was claimed that he was a "ringer" for the first heat and under protest started at the first turn and fell. Fortunately they were not injured and were allowed to start in the next heat under rule 25. At times in the 2d and 3d heats all eight horses had the pole with a safe distance between each horse.

Flora B., roan mare from Stark, N. H., is a good looking and actor and has a sight with proper teaming to do more than she does. In the 27 class with eight horses she came in second. Her driver seemed to be so cautious as to lead one to think that the horse wasn't getting a fair show with the others.

E. E. Faunce of Mechanic Falls was here with four horses. He brought a party of show people here from the Canton fair. Mr. Faunce keeps nineteen horses in his stable at the Falls. While here he ran a team to the fair grounds and picked up a dozen dollars or so on Thursday. He took his folks to the World's Fair at North Waterford, Friday evening.

ANDOVER.

Liquor Dealers Arrested. Charged with having liquor in their possession with the intention of selling. David Christy and Wm. Waitt, both of Rumford, were arrested by Sheriff Tucker, Thursday, and later arraigned before Judge Morrison. They were found guilty and sentenced to 60 days in jail. Christy appealed but later, not being able to find bonds, withdrew his appeal and with his partner was committed. The men were doing business in the woods near the town and 40 pint bottles of whiskey were confiscated by Sheriff Tucker.

FRYEBURG.

Coolidge R. Johnson of Lowell, Mass., is visiting at Geo. H. Walker's.

Coolidge J. Bennett of Lowell, who is visiting his uncle, Geo. H. Walker, after returning from the fair, Friday night, shot two fine deer on the meadow near the house. Ralph W. Willey shot a nice deer the same night.

Some men never give up until after they break down.

Bridgton Academy boasts of the largest entering class for years, they number 36.

Laura E. Stevens has been appointed department inspector of the Women's Relief Corps for Oxford, Norway, Standish and Bethel, and Mrs. Nancy J. Colby for Dixfield.

The October Magazine Number of The Outlook in its hundred pages of reading matter contains in actual amount and in illustration as much as many of the regular monthly magazines; while it is to be remembered that The Outlook publishes under one subscription rate fifty-two numbers a year, twelve of which are illustrated magazine numbers. The current issue contains a pleasant discussion of the coronation in England, with talk about the coronation in England, Angustin Birrell, who has no superior among living English essayists.

Women's Rights.

By ARTEMUS WARD.

I pitched my tent in a small town in Indiana one day last season, & while I was standing at the door taking money, a deputation of ladies came up and sed they were members of the Bukkumule Female Reformatory and Wm. Rite's Association, and they asked me if they could go in without paying.

"Not exactly," sez I, "but you can pay without going in."

"Dew you know who we air?" said one of the wimin—a tall and ferocious looking critter, with a blew kotton umbrella under her arm—"do you know who we air, Sur?"

"My impression is," sez I, "from a kersay view, that you air females."

"We air, Sur," said the ferocious woman—"we belong to a Society which beleeves wimin has rites—whitch beleeves in razin her to her proper speer—whitch beleeves she is indowed with as much intellect as man is—whitch beleeves she is trampled on and abozed—and who will resist henseath & forever the incroachments of proud & domineering men."

Durin her discourse, the exscentric female grabbed me by the coatcoller & was swinging her umbrella wildly over my head.

"I hope, marm," sez I, starting back, "that your intentions is honorable! I'm a lone man hear in a strange place. Besides, I've a wife to hum."

"Yes," cried the female, " & she's a slave! Doth she never think of freedom—doth she never think of throwing off the yoke of tryin' & thinkin' & votin' for herself—? Doth she never think of these here things?"

"Not bein a natral born fool," sez I, by this time a little riled, "I kin safely say that she dothnot."

"Oh, whot—whot!" screamed the female, swinging her umbrella in the air. "O, what is the price that woman pays for her experiance?"

"I don't know," sez I; "the price of my show is 15 cents per individual."

" & can't our Society go in free?" sez the female.

"Not if I know it," sez I.

"Crooli, crooli man!" she cried and burst into tears.

"Won't you let my darter in?" sez another of the exscentric wimin, taking me atekshun by the hand. "O, please let my darter in—she's a sweet gushin child of natur."

"Let her gush!" roared I, as mad as a good stick at their ternal nonsense—"let her gush!" Whereupon they all sprung back with the simultaneous observashun that I was a Beest.

"My female friends," sez I, be4 you leave, I've a few remarks to remark; wa them well. The first woman is one of the greatest fastidions of whitch this land boasts. It's impossible to get along without her. Had there bin no female wimin in the world, I should scarcely be here with my unpareld show on this occashun. She is good in sickness—good in wellness—good all the time. O woman, woman!" I cried, my feelings worked up to a hi poetic pitch. "You air an angle when you behave yourself; but when you take off your proper apparel & (mettyforical speakin)—get into pantyloons—when you desert your firesides, & with your beds full of wimin's rites noshuns go round like roaring lions, seeking whom you may devour somebody—in short, when you undertake to play the man, you play the devil and air an emphatic noosance. My female friends," I continued, as well they were indignantly departin, "wa well what A. Ward has sed!"

Adoniram B. Crafts. Adoniram B. Crafts, a respected citizen of Auburn, died after a long illness at the Central Maine General Hospital in Lewiston on Friday, Sept. 5.

He was a native of Auburn, the son of Adoniram and Charity Crafts, and was educated in the country schools. For several years he was in the shoe business and afterwards for many years in the grocery business. For some time recently he had been the janitor of the Edward Little High School in Lewiston. He was always greatly interested in music and at the outbreak of the Rebellion went to the front with Chandler's band of Portland. On the expiration of his enlistment with the band, he re-enlisted as a musician and served to the close of the war. He was at Harper's Ferry and in the disastrous Red River expedition and came out of the service with a clean and honorable record. He was a member of the old quartette choir of the Auburn Universalist church and of the choir of the High Street Congregational church, and a director of many choral organizations. One of his last allusions was his regret at inability to attend the rehearsals of the Maine Music Festival.

He was a member of the Elm street Universalist church and had held all of the offices in the gift of Burnside Post, G. A. R. He also belonged to the Odd Fellows.

A widow and three sons are left. The sons are Melville Crafts of Portland, Wilson P. Crafts of Brookton, and Chauncy P. Crafts of Old Orchard. Two brothers, one sister and a stepdaughter also survive. A younger brother died in the rebel prison at Salisbury almost forty years ago.

Opening of the Hunting Season.

Chas. Abbott of Fryeburg went deer hunting, last Wednesday, and so did Hal. Gray of the same town. They were not in company but independent hunters.

They came to a field near Fryeburg Center in which was a deer; both claimed exclusive right to kill the deer and both fired at it and the deer escaped uninjured.

Naturally this would close the scene, but not so in this instance. They got into a wrangle and closed it with a fight in which Hal Gray injured his hand to the extent that a physician had to dress it.

THE ONLY WAY THE BEST.

A Porto Rican's Peculiar Method of Milking a Cow.

"I was stationed in Porto Rico for a year or more," said a volunteer of the late war, "and I found one custom in particular that I looked upon as too funny for anything. No cow is ever milked until after her hind legs have been tied together in the most secure manner. I have seen a man spend far more time with the rope than in milking. As I was born on a farm and have milked a cow thousands of times I was of course interested, and more so because I never saw a cow otherwise than gentle. I set out to try to convince the natives that they were going to a great deal of trouble for nothing, but I never quite satisfied them. I sat down and milked their cows without their legs being tied and then got up to say: 'There; don't you see that it is far easier my way?'"

"I do, senor," would be the reply. "Then why not do it my way? Why tie up the legs of a cow when there is no need of it?"

"But suppose she should kick?" "You may as well suppose she won't."

"Ah, senor, that is the very thing. If we suppose she will kick and won't kick, then we must be worrying all the time as to which it will be, and so it is better to tie her legs and keep our thoughts on our greatness as a people."

An Airy Invention.

"Yes, I've got a fine new scheme. It's a life saving net for aeronautes. You spread it on light steel rods and hang it to the bottom of the car of the balloon. Then, when the aeronaute topples out or the balloon blows up he falls into the net and is saved."

"But suppose they both fall?" "Who? The man and the net? They can't fall. The net is fastened to the car by tested steel chains."

"But, supposing the balloon falls?" "The balloon can't fall, either—the net is in the way."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Wisdom of Cheerfulness.

Gladness is health giving. It prolongs life. We all know the good of cheerfulness in the sickroom. It is just as much needed in everyday life. It adds zest to our work. Whistling or singing at one's task makes time pass more swiftly and less tediously. Work cheerfully done is better done. One puts something of one's personality in one's work. If we have troubles to bear, so do all others. Do not add to the burdens of others by going about with a gloomy face and presence. Think of the cheerful things. Do not repine at failure. What seems such may not be so. Out of failure one may reap riches of character. There is no failure so great as failure of spirit and heart in life. If we are sincere, if our work is real, no misfortune, no lack of appreciation, no malice can ruin us. With truthfulness and earnest endeavor in us we can face the world with a smile on the lip and gladness of heart shining in our eyes.—Milwaukee Journal.

Old Time Boller Making.

It is not necessary to look back more than a few years to recall the time when a steam boiler was made of almost "any old stuff," riveted up somehow, anyhow, so long as the rivets were spaced with apparent regularity and had good, big heads on them. The chipping and calking made the thin sheets look about an eighth of an inch thicker than they actually were, and the fittings and mountings of cast iron were so lavish in material that the buyer felt he was getting a good deal for his money. No one could see inside on the seams, even if it had occurred to him to look there and discover the mischief wrought by drift pins urged by heavy flogging hammers upon recalcitrant rivet holes that simply would not let the rivets in or find the liners and "dutchmen" that filled gaps where the plates would not come together. But all these defects existed in cheap boilers made to sell.—Engineering Magazine.
